

Couples/Engagement Photoshoot Guidelines

Whether in the studio or on location, the goal of every couple's portrait goes well beyond taking a nice photo of the couple! It's also to portray the chemistry that binds the couple together in hopes of inspiring others to strive towards what it is you have. This also includes Engagement Sessions! Below, you will find some tips that may help make your photography experience better. Thank you for giving us this opportunity to capture your relationship!

What to Expect:

- Posed pictures smiling at the camera, as well as planned candid
- We encourage that instead of wearing matching outfits, you wear colors that complement one another which creates more texture within the photos
- There is no need to worry about posing, we have poses that we can coach you through. Unless you have specific poses in mind, feel free to mention that!
- If you are doing an engagement shoot, be sure that you have your rings for the photoshoot

If you are unsure of what to wear, the following images are examples of the trending colors for winter 2022:
